Summary

Hi there! My name is Ankit Kumar Sharma and I am currently pursuing a BTech degree in Instrumentation and Control Engineering from NSUT . In addition to my academic studies I have also gained experience in web development and eager to work in this field.

As a passionate learner and problem-solver, and currently trying out my hands on HTML, CSS and JAVASCRIPT. I am constantly seeking new opportunities to apply my skills and knowledge in real-world situations. I am particularly interesting in the field of web development and technical field.

I am proficient in different languages like C,C++ and python and learning my hands on data structures and algorithm . I like to travel ♂# alot and meet new people and learn from their experiences.

Feel free to reach out to me at sharmaankitkumar33@gmail.com
